Bevan Too Much for Gray In Match on Squash Court

Racquet and Tennis Club Crack Defeats Columbia Club Tutor in Three Straight Games and Earns Right to Replace Feron in "Pro" Tourney

James Bevan, squash tennis instructor at the Racquet and Tennis Club, won in three straight games from William Gray, Columbia Club coach, in a match on the Yale Club courts yesterday. The scores were 15-4, 15-12, 18-15.

The victory gives Bevan the right to replace Stephen J. Feron, Harvard Club, in the first handicap professional squash tennis tourney, which begins on the Eli courts this afternoon. Feron was compelled to withdraw on account Bevan's smashing attack and varied game caused the downfall of the Blue and White representative. Gray was at a loss to intercept Bevan's terrific drives in the first game, which was decided in a short time. Two matches are scheduled in the first round of play of the professional series this afternoon. Frank Lafforgue, Yale Club (scratch), meets Harry Harris, Mon'clair Athletic Club (plus three aces), in the first game. In the second match squash tennis followers will see one of the best contests of the tourney when Bevan opposes James Mullens (scratch), a clubmate.

period to disbar her in accordance with the by-laws of the constitution, which expressly prohibits such acts.

Major Adee announced at that time if Miss Cassel would refrain from any further violations of the amateur ruling for the period of one year, he would use his influence to have her restored to good standing, should she make application. The time limit specified is now up, and it is believed that Miss Cassel will be able to compete in the women's national indoor tournament at the Seventh Reg. tent Armory in March. In 1915 Miss Cassel was ranked at No. 9 among the women players of the country and was the winner of many championships during her career on the courts. In the event of her restoration to amateur standing, she will pair with Miss Marie Wagner in the national indoor doubles tournament.

Miss Wagner, Miss Margaret Taylor, Mrs. Theodore Cassebeer and other prominent players have been instrumental in making the fight in behalf of the debarred player.

Police Break Down Doors at Olympic Club

THE police of the West 125th Street station, acting, it is said, under the orders of Commissioner Bugher, took the boxing bull by the horns last night by breaking down the doors of the Olympic Athletic Club. The prisoners were taken to the station house, where they were held in $500 bail each, charged with violation of Section 1,710 of the Penal Code. They were later bailed out by Alderman Michael Shields and will appear in court some day this week.

Captain Gargan, Lieutenant McEnnis and half a dozen plainclothes men went to the clubhouse just as the first preliminary bout was put on and demanded admittance. When it was refused, they battered down the doors and made their way to the ring, where Dan Davis and Harry Davis were in the middle of the third round.

They were told to hop out of the ring and together with Julius Lessor, timekeeper, and Ben Tandor, referee, were ushered to the street. According to Captain Gargan, he has received instructions to force his way into any fight club in the precinct, tickets or no tickets.

Giants Stopped

With this array Chance outfinished the Giants for five consecutive years.
In 1906 he smashed all records by winning 116 games. In 1907 and 1908 his form in defeating a field of twelve with Mathewson at the finish pitching every other day. Early in September the Giants looked to be out of the rut at last, with the flag in sight. But unexpected blows from Cincinnati and Philadelphia, who won something like scapade, tossed the Cubs back into the fight. This was the year the flag went of an extra game, played after the season's close, with Chicago victorious.

In 1909 the Pirates rushed to the front, but the Cubs finished second, ahead fine flag went of the Giants, and in 1910 they wen again.

That grace would give those whose chief stock in trade the freak deliveries are, plenty of time to specialize on the accepted legitimate.

It has also been learned that there is a strong sentiment among National League club owners which may prompt a suggestion to cut down the number of called balls entitling the batsman to his base from four to three. It is felt the defensive end of the game, especially that part appertaining to pitching, has gained a decided mastery over the offensive. A "three-ball" rule is a logical proposition and should meet with the most serious consideration.
